

Narratives are stories about the adventures of people, animals and creatures all over the world. Narratives have characters and a setting for the story.

